DETAILED ACTION

1. After further review of the instant application, it has been determined that a rejection over the prior art with regard to some of the pending claims is warranted. The finality of the last office action is withdrawn in favor of the current action. In an effort to expedite prosecution, applicant's amendment filed 5-26-05 has been entered. Any inconvenience caused applicant by the previous indication of allowable subject matter with regard to the now rejected claims is regretted.
2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-2 and 24-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Wolda '724.

Wolda teaches a vehicle tailgate assembly including a tailgate 24 and a vehicle sidewall 28+. A torsion spring 56 includes a first leg 60 attached to the sidewall via the bracket 50 and bushing assembly 48,74 and a second leg 58 attached to the tailgate via bracket 46 (see figure 4). The torsion spring 56 is actuated in a winding direction as the tailgate is opened – see section 4, lines 60-65 etc.

Claim 2, both the legs are removably attached.

Claim 24, at least the hole in element 46 which receives spring second leg 58 defines a tailgate hole as broadly claimed – see figure 4. Moreover, at least tailgate support/sidewall elements 74,48+ define a hole for receiving spring first leg 60 as broadly claimed – see figure 3 etc.

Claim 25, the support is deemed to define a sidewall as broadly claimed.

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 4-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wolda '724.

Claims 4-5, Wolda teaches all of the claimed features as discussed above regarding claim 1 and further teaches that the dimensions of the spring 56 may be varied to account for at least the amount of force desired – see section 5, lines 12-17. Wolda, however, fails to specifically teach the dimensions recited in claims 4 and 5. The specific dimensions of the spring in this case would be driven by the specific application for which it is utilized, and the spring size would depend on strength, force, and durability requirements. Specific recitation of dimensions/size in this case then would not define a patentable departure from the teachings of Wolda.

Claims 6-10, Wolda teaches all of the claimed features as discussed above regarding claim 1 but fails to specifically teach the materials recited in claims 6-10. High carbon steel springs of the type defined in the instant claims 6-10 are some of the more common types of springs in the art and are utilized because of their desirable strength, resiliency, durability, and spring constant (K) characteristics as required by a specific application. Specific recitation of the specific alloy component concentrations or hardness in this case then would not define a patentable departure from the teachings of Wolda.

6. Claim 3 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

7. Claims 11-20 are allowed.

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to the rejected claims filed in the 2-14-05 amendment have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

9. Applicant's amendment of 2-14-05 necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
